

From the Principal...

I am writing this in the midst of the Coronavirus lockdown in Australia. Life has changed so dramatically since the last Prayer Bulletin was sent to you. The College is delivering all its lectures, seminars and tutorials, and providing the lion's share of its pastoral care online; we've all suddenly had to become much more familiar with new technology as we seek to work, study and carry on meeting from home. It is not the same, many of us feel very keenly the gap between this and life as it was before the virus, and none of us knows just how much life will be changed forever once the pandemic is over.

We are praying, though, that for all the real and aching tragedy and sorrow of this moment in time — my computer this morning tells me nearly 290,000 people have died so far across the world — it might yet prove a time when new hope and life breaks out right across the globe as well. More than ever, people need to hear of the Lord who conquers death, disease and all the symptoms of our broken world, which are ultimately the result of our universal decision to live without God. People need to hear of the crucified one who has risen and is reigning now.

The glorious and gentle lordship of Jesus Christ has not been at all shaken by this crisis. He is still the one who is sovereign over heaven and earth. He is still the one who invites those who are burdened and troubled, anxious or in despair, to come to him. He is still the one who is able to carry us through any disaster to the astonishingly good future he has prepared for his people. His promises never fail. 'A bruised reed he will not break, a faintly burning wick he will not quench, he will faithfully bring forth justice' (Isa 42:3; Matt 12:20).

We can entrust ourselves, each other, our churches and our College to him. We can with confidence pray that he would bring all things to the conclusion he has planned. We can ask that he might use us in a new wave of evangelism and of growth in the churches on the other side of the pandemic. He is able to do all this and your prayers are critical. Our heavenly Father loves to answer the prayers of his people. Thank you for praying.
